Q. The International Day of Clean Air for blue skies takes place on which day globally?

A) September 06
B) September 03
C) September 05
D) September 07

Answer - D

- Clean air, free from dust and smoke, is an essential requirement for human beings and all life on Earth.

- Unfortunately, industrialization, which began around the mid-19th century, polluted our air and water sources heavily, leading to severe disorders of the lungs and heart and causes millions of premature deaths annually.

- Air pollution also negatively impacts Earth’s delicate ecosystems, biodiversity and climate.

- September 7 is celebrated annually as the International Day of Clean Air for blue skies to address this very issue.

- “Healthy Air, Healthy Planet” is the theme for this year’s observance of the International Day of Clean Air for blue skies.
